

ITS WORK LAID OUT FOR A WEEK AHEAD

SENATE PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK PREPARED.

Dates Named for Three Important Delegates—Tariff Bill to be Called up Tomorrow—Death of Representative Crain of Texas—Interference With Legislation.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Although the senate failed to accomplish much Monday the session served to make definite the program on a number of important subjects. Mr. Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, gave notice that he would call up the tariff bill Wednesday. Mr. Call secured unanimous consent that the Cuban question be made the special order following the deficiency appropriation bill. Dr. Davis, author of the Davis resolution on the Monroe doctrine, gave notice that on next Monday he would call up the resolution. Thus the three most important pending questions were given a definite time for hearing.

During the morning hour Mr. Cameron (rep., Pa.) offered a resolution that the good offices of the United States are earnestly recommended to the favorable consideration of the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba.

Mr. Thurston (rep., Neb.) briefly called attention to published reports that he was the author of a bill, recently introduced, giving pensions to ex-slaves. The senator explained that the measure was introduced "by request," and he was entitled to no credit for it.

With the routine business cleared away, Mr. Smith (dem., N. J.) addressed the senate on the Monroe doctrine. Senator Smith announced that he was opposed to the adoption of the resolutions introduced by his colleague (Mr. Sewell) and quite as strongly opposed to those reported by the foreign relations committee, and he supplemented these assertions with the remark that he had little sympathy with the position assumed by the senator from Colorado (Mr. Wolcott). There was, he argued, no occasion for any action of any kind upon this subject by the senate at this time. "We have," he said, "done all that either prudence can justify or patriotism demand. It is not only unnecessary but unwise either to qualify or intensify our action thus taken in response to both an executive and a public demand."

Mr. Lindsay (dem., Ky.) gave notice of an amendment to the house tariff bill, proposing to repeal the provision of the present tariff law which provides a duty of one-eighth of a cent per pound on all sugars above No. 16 Dutch standard and on all discolored sugars.

Consideration was resumed of the resolution directing the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out the law for the distribution of seeds, and Mr. Vest (dem., Mo.) renewed his criticism of the Secretary. He offered a substitute resolution directing the Secretary of Agriculture to purchase and distribute seeds as in previous years, and to procure them by open purchase or contract.

Mr. Bate (dem., Tenn.) defended the cause of the Secretary of Agriculture. Mr. Gray (dem., Del.) stated that he thought Mr. Morton had acted in accordance with the Attorney General's interpretation of the seed law, which was correct. The fault, therefore, was not with the Secretary of Agriculture, but with Congress.

At 2:45 o'clock the Senate went into executive session on motion of Mr. Morgan (dem., Ala.). After the executive session Mr. Mills (dem., Tex.) announced the death of Representative Crain, and appropriate resolutions submitted by him were adopted.

The Vice President named Messrs. Mills, Gallinger and Kyle as a committee to represent the Senate at the obsequies. At 3 o'clock, as a further mark of respect to the deceased, the Senate adjourned until to-day.

LITTLE DONE IN THE HOUSE.

Honors Paid to the Memory of Representative Crain of Texas.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The desk of W. H. Crain, of Texas, who died early in the morning, was draped heavily with black when the House reconvened at 10:30 o'clock Monday after a recess over Sunday. On the desk lay a beautiful bunch of white hyacinths, lilies of the valley and roses. Mr. Crain was serving his sixth term in the House, and his death came as a shock to his colleagues, many of whom did not know he was ill. The debate on the bond bill proceeded until noon, when the legislative day of Saturday expired.

Mr. Hainer (rep., Neb.) spoke in favor of noninterference in the free coinage substitute, and Messrs. McDermott (dem., Tenn.), Calderhead (rep., Kan.), and Skinner (pop., N. C.) for concurrence.

The House immediately reconvened. The blind chaplain referred to Mr. Crain's death in these words: "We hear with profound sorrow of the death of one member of this House. Our hearts and our sympathies go out to those who mourn his loss, and we pray that thou wilt comfort them as thou alone can do. Help us all to be ready when the summons may come to us in Christ's name. Amen."

Mr. Dingley (rep., Me.) endeavored to reach a new arrangement about the bond bill debate. He asked that Tuesday be given to the District of Columbia committee, Wednesday to the continuation of the bond bill debate, and that on Thursday the debate proceed under the five-minute rule until 4 o'clock, when the vote should be taken. There was no objection.

Mr. Sayers (dem., Tex.) then made the formal announcement of the death of his colleague, and offered the usual resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. A committee consisting of Messrs. Pendleton of Texas, Crowley of Texas, Kyle of Mississippi, McDermott of Tennessee, Miles of Maryland, Milnes of Michigan, Leonard of Pennsylvania, McCleary of Minnesota and Murphy of Illinois was appointed by the Speaker to accompany the body to Texas, after which at 2:14 the House, as a further mark of respect, adjourned until to-day.

WILL NOT PRESS HIS MOTION.

Senator Quay Reconsiders His Determination as to the Tariff Bill.

Washington, Feb. 11.—When Senator Quay left the capitol after the adjournment of the Senate Monday he had almost decided to withdraw his motion to recommit the tariff bill, or at least not to press it. This is said to be the result of the importunity of several Republican Senators who, after canvassing the situation among the Democratic Senators, had ascertained to their satisfaction that while there would be a solid vote on the part of both the Democrats and Populists against recommitment, there would be no difficulty in getting a comparatively large vote on the Democratic side of the chamber against the free coinage substitute for the bill.

This turn in the situation has led to an active canvass of the probable vote on the substitute, and on the original bill, in case the substitute is voted down. This survey has necessarily been incomplete, but the result is such as to cause the opponents of the substitute to believe that it can be defeated. They count upon the entire anti-silver Republican vote on the Republican side, besides the votes of many of the silver Republicans, who will not agree to displace the tariff bill with silver, and also upon getting a large majority if not all of the anti-silver Democrats against the substitute. With the substitute defeated, the vote would recur on the tariff bill proper. The friends of this measure are not so sure of its success as are the antagonists of the defeat of that measure. They are led to believe that there will be a solid Democratic and Populist vote against the tariff bill, and they also recall that Senator Baker of Kansas declared in caucus his intention of opposing the tariff bill in the Senate. In the event of Mr. Baker's adhering to this determination, it would be necessary to secure two votes from either Democratic or Populist sources to secure the passage of the measure. There are some who believe these can be secured. The vote will, in any event, be close, and it is so doubtful at this time as to render a prediction a mere guess.

AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY.

Nomination of Edwin Uhl of Michigan at Once Confirmed.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The president sent to the senate Monday the nomination of Edwin F. Uhl of Michigan, now assistant secretary of state, to be ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Germany. The senate in executive session confirmed the nomination. Mr. Uhl was appointed assistant secretary of state Nov. 1, 1893. He is best known as the author of the dispatch to Spain calling upon that country in a peremptory manner to account for the firing on the Allamaca by the gunboat Conde de Venadito off Cape Mayst, on the coast of Cuba.

The new ambassador is a man of considerable wealth, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and was once mayor of Grand Rapids, his former home.

To Foreclose on Pacific Roads.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Senator Pettigrew on Monday introduced a joint resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to foreclose the government lien upon the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroads and pay the prior lien upon them and then take possession of the roads for the government. The secretary is also directed to pay the floating debt of the railroad companies and take up the stocks and bonds pledged as security, and to take possession of all the government lands unsold which are held by the roads.

Oiley's First Assistant.

Washington, Feb. 11.—William W. Rockhill, the Third Assistant Secretary of State, will be nominated within a few days to fill the office of the First Assistant Secretary, vacated by Mr. Uhl, appointed Ambassador to Germany. It is probable that Mr. Rockhill's place will in turn be filled by a promotion of some person in the State Department. This may be either Mr. Oridler, chief of the diplomatic bureau, or Edward Arenick, chief clerk of the department.

Senator Culom's Pension Bill.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Senator Culom has introduced a bill giving a pension of $24 per month to all ex-soldiers 75 years of age who served in both the Mexican and civil wars.

THINKS HER STORY CAN CLEAR JACKSON

PEARL BRYAN SAID TO HAVE TAKEN POISON.

Miss Hollingsworth Reiterates Her Story as to the Cause of the Girl's Death—Prisoners Would Not be Safe in Kentucky—Feeling Runs Very High.

Zanesville, Ohio, Feb. 11.—A passenger train on the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley Railway jumped the track at a switch about ten miles west of this city about noon Monday. The engine, baggage car, and mail car rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment, the engine being wedged in a V-shaped space between the switch and the main track. A broken flange on the engine truck and an open switch are both given as causes, but no satisfactory conclusion has been reached. The official list of killed and wounded is:

THOMAS FISHER, baggage man, Trinaway; killed.

Captain Bell, mail agent, Morrow; bruised about the head.

William Atkinson, brakeman, Roseville; bone of left leg broken, one rib broken, chin cut.

Joseph Porter, employe, Zanesville; injured in abdomen.

Isaac Jones, coal operator, Zanesville; left leg broken above ankle.

C. L. Sprigley, engineer, Zanesville; cuts on head and face, legs bruised; not fatal.

Frank Tanner, Roseville; cheeks and chin cut, body bruised.

David Lenhart, traveling salesman, Zanesville; internal injuries.

Philip D. Miller, Newark; left wrist sprained, cut on right hand.

J. Wildermuth, passenger, Lancaster; left knee bruised.

Thomas Davis, fireman, Zanesville; leg bruised slightly.

William R. Barker, Roseville; back strained.

William Linton, detective, Zanesville; slight bruises.

TO DIE TODAY.

"Bat" Shea to Suffer the Extreme Penalty of the Law.

Danmore, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Bartholomew Shea, condemned to die before the noon hour to-day, is a trifle buoyed up by the feeling that something may intervene to save his life. It is not skepticism born of hope, but rather of precedent, for Shea has said his good-bys to his friends, apparently accepting the word of all those surrounding him that this is the end. The prison officers have completed every arrangement; the witnesses are on the ground; the warden has told Shea that there is no possible hope for him; the hour of the execution has been set and yet before everybody here looms up the significant fact that Shea four times has been equally as far beneath the shadow of death and the yawning arms of the electrical chair have seen the victim snatched from them just so many times. Will this fifth preparation for death be final? Is the question that agitates all here.

No College President Chosen.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 11.—The Michigan Agricultural college board, with Governor Rich in attendance, met Monday night to elect a president of the college. The twenty or more candidates were canvassed and a committee, appointed to investigate the character and standing of some of them, reported verbally. Several ballots were taken without results, and after a three hours' session the meeting adjourned until morning. The members of the board are reticent as to who were discussed or what was done.

Police Can Find No Clew.

New York, Feb. 11.—What appears to have been a cold-blooded murder was committed yesterday in the Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf Mutes. The victim was Prof. Max F. Glau, 68 years old, an instructor in the study drawing. The body was found in the studio of the professor on the fourth floor of the institution. There were a number of horrible gashes on the back of the head, and near the body was found a bloody iron shovel, with which the murderer evidently struck down his victim. No apparent motive for the crime was discovered.

Made Too Much Noise.

Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 11.—Burglars entered Milton Brothers' bank at Earlville Monday morning at 4 o'clock, appropriated $60 in the cash drawer and attacked the safe, containing about $10,000. On the second attempt they used dynamite, which shattered the safe, shook the bank and surrounding buildings and so frightened the burglars that they fled, leaving the money behind. Neighbors who heard the noise did not at the time suspect the cause.

Left a $5,000,000 Estate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The will of William H. English was probated Monday. The estate is said to be worth $5,000,000. The son and daughter are made executor and executrix, to serve without bond.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK NEAR ZANESVILLE

PASSENGER TRAIN JUMPS THE TRACK.

Baggage man Instantly Killed and Many Passengers Wounded—Cause of the Accident Not Yet Fully Ascertained—Official List of Injured Tells a Sad Story.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—According to the Hollingsworth woman, who told a long story Monday afternoon at the station house, Pearl Bryan returned to this city from Cincinnati in company with Walling on the Thursday night of which Walling has no definite recollection; that Walling and Pearl Bryan stayed at a South Illinois street hotel that night, and returned to Cincinnati Friday morning; that the poison was administered to Pearl Bryan here. It is said that a woman left this city on the C. H. & D. train on that morning; that she was taken deathly sick at Morristown, where the last trace of her was obtained. Miss Hollingsworth says: "I shall be able to clear Jackson. He is responsible for Miss Bryan's condition, but he was not responsible for her death."

BOTH IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Jackson and Walling Not Overwhelmed by Their Situation.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 11.—Jackson and Walling, after a somewhat exciting first day in jail, are in good spirits. It looks as if the men will shortly be taken to Newport for trial. The grand jury is now in session and, it is said, is hearing evidence in the case. The prosecuting attorney is already preparing indictments. Besides this, Gov. Bradley has sent a special officer to Newport to get the facts, with a view to the issuance of a demand for the extradition of the prisoners.

While the officers of Campbell County, Kentucky, are confident that they can protect the prisoners in Kentucky and while citizens of Newport resent the imputation of lawlessness, it is still the common notion that little would be left for the courts to do with these prisoners if they should be in the Newport jail.

Scott Jackson Monday gave a written statement about his bloody coat found in the sewer. He claims that Walling wore his clothing on the night of the murder.

Her Story Discredited.

Greencastle, Ind., Feb. 11.—The girl, Mary Hollingsworth, who figures in the sensational developments concerning the death of Pearl Bryan, is known in this city, having come here after her elopement from the female college at Terre Haute. She is regarded as an adventuress, and her confession is given little credence by those acquainted with her.

When the officers closed in on him he emptied his revolver on them without effect and then drew a knife. In the melee one of the officers shot him through the shoulder. He will be tried at Dallas, Tex., if he survives this wound.

Mysterious Shooting Affray.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 11.—William S. Brewer, aged 21 years, a citizen of Danville, was mysteriously shot and probably fatally wounded in this city last Monday night, and the authorities knew nothing about it. A gentleman arriving here from Danville brought the news that Brewer had been shot in the left side just above the heart, and in the head, and that his condition was so serious that his life was despaired of by his physician. The gentleman stated that Brewer was shot by the husband of a woman he had come to Lexington to see. Brewer has led a wild life.

Nashville, Ill., Feb. 11.—Forty thousand dollars' worth of property went up in smoke and ashes here Monday in less than two hours and where formerly there stood three three-story business houses is a mass of ruins and the two buildings adjoining where the raging flames were squelched are almost in as bad condition as those destroyed entirely. #### BIG SCARE AT MADRID.

Immense Aerolite Explodes Directly Above the Spanish Capital.

Madrid, Feb. 12.—An immense aerolite exploded above this city at 9:30 a. m. Monday. There was a vivid glare of light and a loud report, followed by a general panic. All the buildings were shaken and many windows were shattered. According to the officials of the Madrid observatory the explosion occurred twenty miles above the earth. The force of the explosion was felt for several kilometers around this city, and the concussion was so severe that the partition wall of the United States legation collapsed and nearly all the windows of that building were broken.

The sun was shining clearly at the time of the explosion and the only thing visible in the sky was a white cloud bordered with red, which was traveling rapidly across the heavens, leaving behind it a train of fine white dust.

When the explosion occurred the populace believed it was an earthquake or a sign of divine wrath. Many injuries resulted from the panic which broke out among the people and from the frantic attempts made to escape from the factories and schools. Seventeen persons were injured in one tobacco factory by the collapse of a staircase when the inmates rushed upon it to escape from the building.

At the palace it was at first feared that a bomb had been exploded.

Much damage was done by the force of the concussion to the walls and windows throughout the city.

Gen. Weyler at Havana.

Havana, Feb. 11.—The steamer Alfonso XIII arrived here at 8 o'clock Monday morning, having on board General Valeriano Weyler, the new captain general of Cuba; Nicolau, marquis of Tenerife; and Generals Enrique, Barges, Frederico Ochando, Miguel Melqui, Marinus Anumada, Luis Castellol, Sanchez Bernal, and Juan Arolas, the latter being the hero of Jolo, Philippine islands.

Arguments in the Kellar-Shanks Trial.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 11.—John Beasley occupied Monday's session of the court in the Kellar-Shanks murder trial, making the opening argument for the defense. He dwelt at length on the "reasonable doubt" rule of law in criminal cases, and told the jury that a verdict of guilty should not be returned because the killing of Clara Shank by the Kellars was the only explanation of the mystery of the girl's death. He maintained that the alleged suspicious conduct of the Kellars was nothing more than would have characterized country people of their class under like circumstances. It is thought the case will be submitted to the jury to-morrow.

Sentenced to Prison for Life.

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 11.—Jerry Scott, the negro whose daughter died from the effects of floggings administered by her father, was arraigned for trial Monday morning, and pleaded not guilty. The trial was adjourned as a ruse to scatter the crowd which had assembled. In the afternoon he changed his plea to guilty of murder in the second degree. Scott was sentenced to imprisonment for life, and was at once placed inside the big prison. While in jail, he was attacked by fellow prisoners, and roughly handled and bruised.

Salisbury May Arbitrate.

London, Feb. 11.—The Bradford Observer says that it learns that the Marquis of Salisbury has requested the authorities of British Guiana to inquire into the number and extent of the districts occupied by British subjects. This, according to the paper mentioned, points to the fact that the British government is willing to arbitrate on condition that Great Britain be allowed to retain the districts occupied by British subjects, or that the latter be compensated for their loss by Venezuela in the event of the territory passing into the possession of the latter country.

Importing Sugar from Egypt.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 11.—About twelve thousand three hundred tons of sugar are now afloat on way to this port from Alexandria, Egypt. The Green Bay & Mississippi Canal company had at first made trouble by refusing to come into the deal but finally fell in line. Now the other mill men are holding off and it looks as if the deal would fail. Much time and money has been spent to perfect the plans and the mill men are angry at the action of some of the men who promised to back the scheme.

The pope, however, has abandoned his intention of publicly excommunicating Prince Ferdinand."

A DOUBTING THOMAS.

Who Stood Upon the Ragged Edge of Health.

But Was Willing to Be Convinced of the Truth.

He Has at Last Become a Firm Believer.

Some people are so constituted that they prefer to keep on in the beaten path and never to strike out for themselves. When they are sick they rely upon a few old-fashioned medicines, and apparently choose to suffer rather than try a modern remedy of established reputation.

Among the various ills of such people none is more common than biliousness, which is caused by torpor of the liver, thus preventing the proper digestion of the food, which decomposes and ferments in the stomach. This causes dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, pains in the stomach and abdomen, with an accumulation of gas; there is constipation and possibly kidney trouble; the complexion is pale and sallow and life is only prolonged misery.

In such cases what is needed is a nerve and blood-builder to bring back the bloom of youth to pale and sallow people.

Mr. Auguste Froelicher of 299 Bleecker street, New York City, was a great sufferer, but when a friend recommended to him the greatest remedy of modern times, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, he questioned its efficacy. At last this Doubting Thomas was persuaded to try this marvelous medicine, and the following letter shows how he was convinced of its great virtues and now he has become a firm believer in it. He says: "Having been sick for over two years with malaria and dyspepsia and not being able to eat, the doctors advised me to make a trip to France, which I did, returning without any better results.

"My trouble has been one that caused several physicians of renown here in America, and also other eminent members of the medical family in Europe to fail after persistently attempting its cure. It was pronounced a complication of malaria, dyspepsia and kidney weakness.

"I heard of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and after using it for a time I began to eat well and my sufferings disappeared.

"That others who have suffered as I have with terrible pains in the back, limbs and head may be relieved from such dreadful tortures, and restored to usefulness, this testimonial is given to let it be made public that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has completely cured me."

Perhaps it is not strange that Mr. Froelicher doubted, for the marvelous power of Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great blood and nerve remedy, is almost beyond belief. A trial will convince the most skeptical that this is the greatest medicine of modern times. Its discoverer, Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th street, New York city, is one of the practitioners of whom this nineteenth century is justly proud. He allows all who wish to consult him daily, either personally or by letter, free of charge.

RAILROAD MEN ARE WARNED.

No Freight Trains Allowed To Back Over Car Inspectors.

Another strict order has come from Superintendent Cowan, of the Northwestern road, relating to the side tracking of cars, on a track where a red signal is placed. In the future when a train or car is standing on a side track protected by a red signal, other cars must not be placed in front of it so as to obscure it, without first notifying the car inspector, whose presence under the car is indicated by the signal, and thus giving him time to protect himself and avoid accidents. This new order will receive the hearty approval of all the railroad men, for many fatal accidents have happened, because of the disregarding of this rule.

Big Profits we are not looking for, all we want is a small amount of money for our shoe. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Hard to Beat This. I met a mean man on a sleeper coming into Washington. I was in the smoking compartment, and he took a drink, offering his flask then to a friend, says a writer in the Washington Star. It was empty, and the mean man apologized. The friend disappeared and returned with a flask of his own, from which the mean man drank freely. They talked for some time, meanwhile taking several drinks, and finally the friend retired. Then it was the man's meanness asserted itself. Producing the flask from which others could not drink, he regaled himself, and I noticed that in addition to taking off the top he pressed a spring in the neck of the flask. It had plenty in it for him, but none for his friends, who were not acquainted with the combination, and he was thus enabled to secure a reputation for liberality and access to the flasks of his friends without cost to himself.

The Dejected Young Man.

"Woman," said the dejected young man, "is a fake."

"Yes?" spoke one listener.

"Yes. It has not been so many moons since I saved up all my billiard money and lived on beans two weeks to blow myself on an opera and a supper for a young woman. Then I asked her to marry me, and she said she was afraid I was too extravagant to make a good husband."—Indianapolis Journal.

OVERLOOKED.

There Are Patent Medicines and Remedies, Without Number

For Every Disease and Affliction But One.

A prominent physician was recently asked, why it was that there are so many "blood purifiers," "nerve tonics" and remedies for every ill, except one of the most common and annoying, viz: piles. He replied, there are two principal reasons: first, physicians and people in general, have thought that the only permanent cure for piles was a surgical operation, that medicinal preparations were simply palliative. Another reason is, that piles is, in no sense of the word, an imaginary disease; the sufferer from piles is very much aware of the fact, and for this reason, the few so-called pile salves, ointments, etc., have been short lived. The patient very soon discovered their inefficiency.

He says further, "fortunately however, there is a new remedy for piles, which judging from its rapidly growing popularity will soon take the place of all other treatment; it has certainly made astonishing cures in this obstinate disease and its merit has made it famous among physicians and wherever it has been introduced. This remedy is sold by all druggists under the name of Pyramid Pile Cure.

From the immediate relief which the Pyramid Pile Cure gives in all forms of piles, many physicians supposed it contained opium, cocaine or some similar substance, but upon analysis it was found to be perfectly free from anything of the kind, and that the instant relief and cure which follows its use, is rather the result of its remarkable healing, soothing action on the parts affected.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the only remedy, except a surgical operation, which immediately relieves and permanently cures every form of piles.

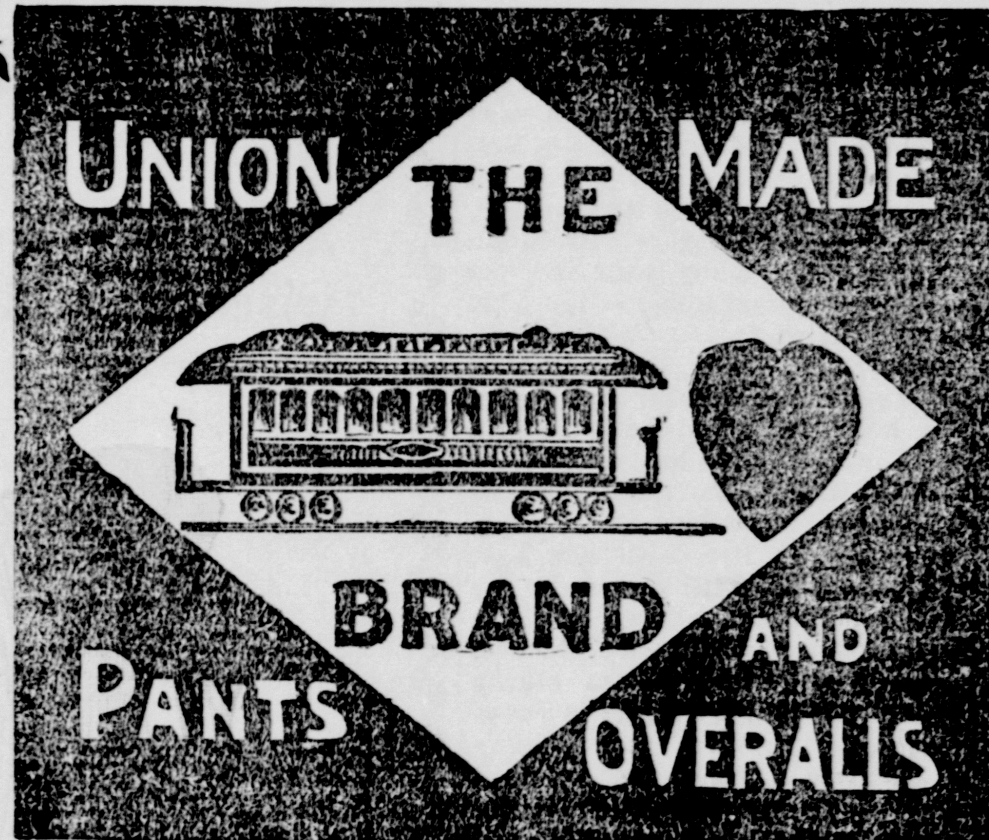

It is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1 or by mail from Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

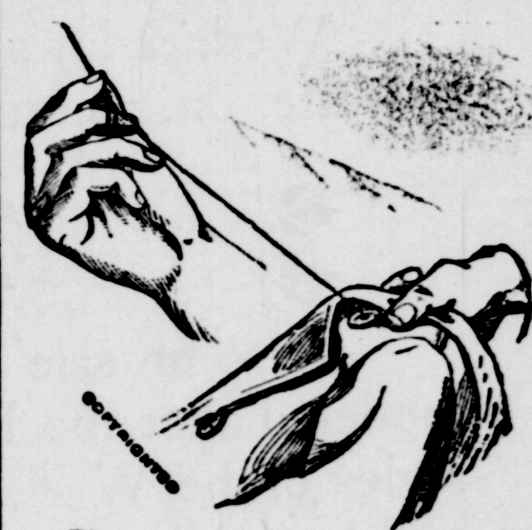

ELY'S PINEOLA BALM is a sure remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat and for asthma. It soothes the inflamed membrane, quickly abates the cough, and renders expectoration easy.

It will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose their case is beyond remedy are only suffering from a chronic cold, or deep seated cough often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c. per bottle. Ely's Pineola Balm, 25c. Sold by druggists. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

CARHART'S

Many people will recognize this trade mark. The word Carhart has become a household word from coast to coast and from the boundary of the Canada's land to the sunny south. You ask why the name Carhart is so familiar? Because every garment is made by the hand of skilled union labor.

They Are Better Made,
They Wear Better,
They Are Superior

in every way to any brand made.

The different labor unions of the country endorse Carhart brand goods and the people who are not members of lodges must concede that they are superior in every respect to any garment on the market.

Overalls, Pants, Coats,
Vests, Jumpers,
Jean Suits, Engineer's Jacket
Bib Overalls.

We are sole agents for Carhart's goods. Their pants and overalls leads the world. Give it a trial.

Frank H. Baack.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Mrs. Mary B. Smith.

Mrs. Mary B. Smith, mother of President Stanley B. Smith, of the First National Bank, passed away peacefully at 8 o'clock last evening. She had been ill but three days, taking to her bed Saturday. Friends were about her in her last moments and she suffered no pain. Mrs. Smith was born March 6, 1808, in Newfane, Vermont, almost eighty-eight years ago. When young she moved to Bernardston, Mass., where her father, Dr. John Brooks, lived for many years and was a prominent practitioner. In 1849 she was married to Col. Jesse Smith, at Newport, New York, and in 1846 they came to Wisconsin, settling in Union, Rock county, where Col. Smith engaged in mercantile business. They resided in Union until Col. Smith's death in 1873, when Mrs. Smith came to Janesville to live with her son, Stanley B. Smith, with whom she has made her home ever since, her death occurring at his Forest Park residence.

Mrs. Smith united to the sturdy earnestness of her New England stock, great mental alertness and a sunny wit. She was a great reader and a conversationalist of unusual charm. In the Baptist church she was known for her good works, her kindly actions and her ready usefulness.

Three children are left to mourn the loss of a mother's love, they being Stanley B. Smith, of this city, Mrs. Frances E. Aslop, of Brooklyn, Wis., and Mrs. Mary K. Richardson, of Meade, Kansas.

HOME MASTODONS WIN APPLAUSE

Songs, Jokes and Dances by Janesville Talent Last Night.

Nearly every number on the Home Mastodon programme last night was followed by an encore. That tells what the audience thought. A lively box office sale today gives further confirmation.

The program showed the versatility of Janesville performers. There were solos by C. H. Hamilton, D. D. Bennett, Harry Phillips, J. H. Burns, B. F. Crowell, Harry P. Robinson, Harry Ellison, Charles W. Blay, George G. Paris, Al. Smith, William Garbutt, Harry Ellison and Charles Patterson. Part songs were given by several quartettes and trios and there was some loudly applauded dancing by Willie Farrell, Harry Ellison, Orson Eaton and others.

The Madrigal club, consisting of Masters Fred Baker, Ross Bump, Volmer Peterson, Arthur Dilzer, Ernest Kupe and William Drummond, rendered "Sunshine of Paradise Alley" sweetly and made a delightful closing to the first part.

The performance concluded with a sketch, "Wash Day Down at Johnson's," introducing Messrs. Crowell, Hamilton, Phillips and Farrell.

A more detailed review of the performance is necessarily delayed until tomorrow evening.

THE EYE OF THE HEART.

"I'd know him—yes, know him 'mid those sands," she said.

"Although these poor eyes cannot see, The sound of his voice and the lift of his tread Would alike be sweet music to me."

So all day she sat by the door of her cot While she dreamed of her had far away, And she never dreamed her poor, pitiful lot, For her hope bloomed anew day by day.

The roses had faded for many a year; They told her the boy of her heart Had long since forgotten the mother once dear, But he'd never would his image depart.

"I know he will come," she would murmur, "dear lad, He would never forsake me, not he, And my poor waiting heart once again will be glad When my laddie comes over the sea."

A stranger walked up to her cottage one day. Said he: "I bring news from your son. He rests in his grave, out at sea, far away." She smiled ere his words were half done. "It's wise ye may be," she exclaimed, as she rose.

And clasped him with transports of joy: "No mother so blind, laddie, all the world knows, As not know her own darling boy!"

—Monroe H. Rosenfeld in New York Sun.

AN ODD COUPLE.

Usually every community has a few individuals that can be called originals, and by their originality attain a classic fame, and among several such characters I remember old Pia Maord and the provincial letter carrier, Johannes Isaksson.

Pia Maord had her little history and her proud recollections in spite of her humble station in life. Ever since she was a child, and long after she had attained the gracefulness in figure of the barons of Svanaholm, and when the old baron departed this life, like all other barons, and his son, the young honorable, succeeded his father, feeling his aesthetic mind suffer from daily beholding old Pia's corpulence, Pia was pensioned off and given a little cottage on the estate and enough pasture ground to support in comfort the female of the bull—in other words, a cow of the regulation pattern and size. Old Pia had it most comfortable in her old age. Not a party, wedding, christening or funeral took place for miles around but that old Pia must be there and cook, and as Pia was not by any means bashful, her larder was constantly provided with the choicest of eatables and drinkables.

Old Pia was certainly not a beauty. She sported a pair of mustaches that were the envy of the young men in the village. Her form partook more of the resemblance of a Dutch cheese than a sylph, and to behold Pia sailing down the village street, like a galley under full sail, was a sight for the gods. Of course Pia was not to blame for her appearance—that was accepted as a freak of the Creator—but Pia was of such extremely moral temperament that as soon as she discovered that any young man and woman in her neighborhood were spooning, or an engagement reported, Pia did her best to break or hinder it, claiming it was all frivolity and the work of the evil one. Of course Pia claimed to be prompted only by the best intentions, but this little streak of virtue in old Pia was not appreciated by the young people, and Pia was considered a good, lawful subject for all the pranks that the depraved minds of the young village people were capable of, and young people's minds in our modern times are very elastic.

Imagine, then, the glorious rumor that spread that old Pia herself had been made subject for the lance of the evil one and that the object of her tender, maidenly love was the old letter carrier, Johannes. And to think of the consequences of letting love loose in such a big body as Pia's! The result might well be considered serious, and the villagers were on the tiptoe of expectation.

Old Johannes had, early in life, been a steward on a big estate and associated with city people, and even met foreigners, and acquired a high toned language and manner which, all combined, had conquered old Pia's maiden reserve.

One day Johannes had called at Pia's cottage to deliver a letter, and as this was something so extraordinary, an event in Pia's life, Johannes must perforce remain and read the communication. It turned out to be a notification that Pia had inherited the respectable sum of 1,000 rik dollars from a member of the noble family of Svanaholm, and Pia had, therefore, the attraction of an heiress for Johannes.

Pia, on her part, considered Johannes as a great man. Was not his language like what she sometimes had heard at Svanaholm? And did he not represent his majesty the king's postoffice department? The best of everything from Pia's larder was placed before Johannes, and he was feasted like a king. The satisfaction was mutual, for as Johannes said one day: "Manselle Pia, it is so pleasurable to visit here, when one has as unattended with educated persons, and again converse with an equivoque and cynic female."

Old Pia just sat there, the picture of astonishment at the big words, of which she did not understand the meaning, but she charmed the old girl, and Johannes' learning was rewarded with pancakes and frequent glasses of something Pia claimed kept rheumatism out of the bones.

Johannes would have been made of stone if such attention had not touched his heart or his stomach. Whether Pia or Johannes first made the proposition to visit the village pastor and request that the banns be published between them will forever remain a mystery. (In Sweden it is the custom for the pastor to read the names from the pulpit after service on Sunday of those that intend to marry, and this is done for three Sundays in succession.)

Both Pia and Johannes knew that if their intention became known to the villagers they would be exposed to much unpleasantness from the young people, and they decided on a plan that they thought was very clever. This was for Johannes and Pia to start, dressed in their ordinary everyday dress, by separate rate routes and then to meet at the edge of the forest, where they could put on their Sunday costume, which they would bring with them tied up in a bundle.

The two benighted old souls had many a good laugh at the clever way in which they would fool their tormentors.

The day finally arrived, and early in the morning Johannes started out, carrying with him his Sunday dress, tied up in a bundle. Unfortunately he was compelled to pass through the village street, and here he was accosted with the inquiry by one of the young fellows of the village "where the postmaster was going to so early in the morning?"

"Oh," replied Johannes—and he tried to look dignified—"just pergrinating terra firma." Johannes expected the big words would astonish his tormentor, but the boy stuck to him and succeeded in discovering that Johannes' Sunday coat was in the bundle. The villagers were at one informed of the fact, and Johannes was followed at a distance by one of the boys. Soon Pia was seen waddling through the village street, also carrying a bundle, and the villagers were now sure that something was about to happen. Pia was followed, and was seen to enter the forest. Here she met Johannes, and both were busy taking off their everyday dress when, with a horrible yell, the entire population of the village was seen approaching. "Look out for the wolves!" they cried. "They are biting everybody." Pia and Johannes did not stand on ceremony. In his flannel underwear, leaving his Sunday dress behind, Johannes sprinted for the village church, followed by Pia in her red petticoat, with the villagers running behind them, yelling "Wolf!"

The minister was baptizing Abolids Kristina's child, when the door to the sacristy was burst open and Pia, breathing like a whale from her exertion, rolled in, followed by Johannes, bareheaded and in his flannels.

The minister and the baptizing party were almost scared out of their wits. "My friends! My friends! Have you escaped from highwaymen, or has the evil spirit entered into you?"

"No," said Pia, with the little voice she could command after her rapid running. "Beggings the worthy pastor's pardon, no other spirit has entered in us but to come here and request the worthy pastor to read the banns over me and Johannes next Sunday. But the villagers say the wolves were after them, and I have lost my Sunday dress, and Johannes"—and here Pia had to stop for lack of breath, and Johannes tried to crawl under a table to hide himself.

The minister was not slow to see the joke and understand the situation. Repressing as far as possible his inclination to laugh, he requested Pia and Johannes to approach his table, and addressed them on the sanctity of matrimony. When the pastor went home to his dinner, he and his sexton had a good laugh at probably the oddest pair of lovers ever to appear before a minister.

And as for the village people, they yelled and cried and hurrahed until Johannes, as he later confided to Pia over a tumbler of something refreshing, "had never in his life been so extemporaneously frustrated," and that he expected every minute "to be stricken with obfuscation."—From the Swedish.

Peter Backed Out.

A New Orleans letter to the Philadelphia Press contains an account of a singular adventure that befell a Louisiana boy, Peter Sykes by name, who drives a milk cart for his father. He was on the road about sunrise, pretty dozy and perhaps sleeping a little, when a sudden jolt shook him wide awake.

Instantly he became aware of a horrible thing. By some unaccountable means a big rattlesnake had found its way into the cart, and was wrapped about the neck of one of the large milk cans. The fellow looked as if he were all ready to strike. That was an awful moment for Peter.

The cart was a tight little box of a place. The two cans filled up the front, and the driver's seat was well in the rear. A covering of black oilcloth shut the boy in. There was a narrow door space on either side, to be sure, but as it happened Peter had fastened down both the flaps to keep out the morning chill.

It would not do to stop the cart, lest the sudden jar should hasten the snake's movements. A flash of thought, like an inspiration, came to the boy. With his eye still fixed on the reptile, he drew his knife from his pocket and whipped the blade across the tight oilcloth behind him, making a wide gash. Then shouting "Whoa!" to the horse, he let go the reins and dropped headforemost out of the cart.

Luckily the horse stopped, and a policeman who happened along at the moment helped Peter to kill the snake. According to the story, the fellow measured 4 feet and carried ten rattles.

She Was an Illustrator.

The teacher of a primary school in the mission read "The Old Oaken Bucket" to the little tots, and explained it to them very fully. Then she asked them to copy the first stanza from the blackboard and illustrate it as the artists illustrate a story in the daily papers. One little girl handed in her verse with several little dots between two of the lines, a circle, half a dozen dots and three buckets.

"Lizzie, I don't understand this," said the teacher. "What is that circle?"

"Oh, that's the well."

"And why have you three buckets?"

"One is the oaken bucket, one is the iron bound bucket and the other is the bucket that hung in the well."

"Then what are all of those little dots?"

"Why, those are the loved spots which my infancy knew."—San Francisco Post.

"Family, I should say. He's a widower with 11 children."—New York Tribune.

"I want to buy a make-up box," said the young married man.

"A make-up box?" the confectioner echoed. "We don't keep theatrical supplies."

"I mean a box of candy to take home to my wife. I promised to be home three hours ago."

—Louisville Post.

Wise.

There was a girl in our town
And she was wondrous wise;
She kissed a man with a week-old beard
And scratched out both her eyes.
And when she saw her eyes were out,
It gave her no great pain;
She went and looked for another man
To scratch them in again.

—Detroit Tribune.

Not Unreasonable.

Teacher—Tommy, what do you understand the author to mean when he says that riches and poverty are merely relatives?

Tommy—I guess he means that some has rich relatives, and some has poor ones.—Indianapolis Journal.

Dauber's Occupation.

—To Date.

Two Left.

"Johnnie!" said the teacher.

"What, ma'am?"

"If you and Willie and I each had an orange, and you should eat all of them, how many would be left?"

"Two; you and Willie."—Waverley Magazine.

A World at Stake.

"Columbus took big chances when he illustrated the fact that the world was round."

"How so?"

"Suppose the egg had been a bad one?"—Truth.

Lament.

It's the way that perversities ever pursue
That makes a poor mortal feel tired;
For whatever you gain and whatever you lose,
It's never just what you desired.

—Washington Star.

AND SHE NEVER TUMBLED.

"I'm glad, Mr. Goodman, that you are to put my skates on to-day, rather than that Mr. Soaker. He don't know the first thing about skates."

Goodman (facetiously)—You surprise me, Miss Vassar. I thought he was an adept at getting on skates.—Brooklyn Life.

In Hoc Signo.

"Did the preacher marry them in the sign language?"

"In the sign language? No. They're not mutes. Why should he?"

"Because it was merely a matter of dollar marks."—Chicago Tribune.

Hogs.

"I should think," she said, when nobody offered her a seat, "that they would run cattle cars on this road."

Bay City Chat.

Not What He Seems.

Bike always keeps well posted.
But, alas! here is the rub—
He hasn't any money.
So he's posted at the club.

—N. Y. Recorder.

A Sure Thing.

The man who "practices what he preaches" doesn't have so much time to preach, but he gets there.—Cleveland Post.

Encouraging.

He—I would kiss you if I thought no one would see me.

She—Shall I close my eyes?—To Date.

Method in His Suddenness.

She—This is so sudden.

He—I know it, but I thought I would try my luck before your father got home.—Town Topics.

Shoots a Woman, Then Himself.

Anaconda, Mont., Feb. 10.—Oscar Barneybeak shot Mrs. E. B. Catlin on the street about 11 o'clock Saturday night, while she was returning with friends from a visit to her neighbors. Three shots were fired, one taking effect in the shoulder. Barneybeak escaped but ten minutes later appeared on Third street and shot himself in the head, dying instantly. Barneybeak formerly boarded with the Catlin family and conceived a passion for Mrs. Catlin which was in no way encouraged. He had several times been driven from the house. Barneybeak came from Quincy, Ill. Mrs. Catlin's injuries will not prove fatal.

Cattlemen Resume Their War.

Hemingford, Neb., Feb. 10.—The trouble between the stockmen and the rustlers is again assuming a serious aspect in this part of the state. Since the shooting of Charles Helm, the stockman, south of Alliance, about a month ago, several more or less prominent men in this and adjoining counties have received notices, frescoed with skulls and crossbones, notifying them to leave the country at once or they would be shot. Interesting developments are looked for by those interested, and many are afraid of serious results.

TRUST IN FOOD.

Eat Proper Food and See That You Digest It.

Your health and strength depend on the food you eat—and the way you digest it. Simplicity in diet and looking after your stomach may add several years to your life.

It will certainly make you happier, for unhappy people are generally dyspeptic. The Shakers of Mount Lebanon are a peculiar people, with peculiar views.

They may not be right in everything, but they know how to live a healthy life. They take care of their stomachs. They live to a ripe old age.

When they have indigestion, they take a few doses of a peculiar cordial which they have prepared from medicinal herbs and plants. It is called the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure indigestion immediately; permanently with the aid of a proper diet. It is a tonic for the stomach and for the whole system. It makes your food make strength, and this is the whole secret of strength, health and happiness.
